POOL NOW PREPARES TO RECEIVE NEW CROP

With the goal of 75,000 members, set some time ago for the present year achieved, the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association officials now are giving their attention to preparation to receive the 1922 crop, for which receiving plants of the association will be open some time between December 1 and December 15. No more 1922 crops will be received.

Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker said that some growers had been laboring under the impression that they would have to bring their tobacco to one of the larger delivery points in order to obtain the best grading, and therefore, the best price. That is a mistaken idea, Mr. Barker declared.

"One of the primary objects of the organization of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association," he said, "was to see that every tobacco grower gets the same price for the same quality of tobacco and to end the injustice of the old system of selling, by which some crops sold at 30 cents a pound and tobacco of equal quality sold for fifteen cents a pound. It does not make any difference where the grower delivers his tobacco, he will get the same grading service, whether he delivers his tobacco at one of the larger receiving points or at the smallest receiving point in the district. The graders of the association at these smaller points are men of just as much ability and of as high character as the graders at the largest point in the district.

"We hope that growers will deliver their tobacco to the nearest receiving plant of the association. Instead of hauling their tobacco long distances with the mistaken idea of getting a better service. The men who will grade our tobacco this year will be the best we can get, no matter to what point they may be assigned, and the grower will get just as good service at the smallest as the largest point of delivery."

UNCLE SAM WANTS TAX ACCOUNTANTS

Confronted with the task of checking up on 25,000,000 income tax returns filed since 1917, the United States treasury department has hung out the "Help Wanted" sign.

Salaries ranging from $1,800 to $3,000 a year were the inducements offered; the qualifications were "at least the rudiments of theory and practice in accounting." Examinations will be held November 15 in various cities. Since 50,000,000 new returns are added to the pile each year, the prospects are that the jobs will be permanent, according to internal revenue officers in charge of the work.

Thirty-five hundred accountants are reported already engaged in checking up tax returns in the field divisions outside of Washington, in addition to the staff of several thousand auditing reports at the capital.

PARIS HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The evening courses that opened November 6 are growing most popular and interesting. The classes meet Monday and Wednesday evenings. New students are enrolled at every evening. If you are interested in any evening class work come to the City School Monday or Wednesday at 7:15, and you will find some course that will interest you. New courses will be opened from time to time. Watch the announcements for new courses.

The Paris High School football team has received invitation from the University of Kentucky to attend the Kentucky-Alabama game Saturday, November 18. The invitation has been accepted and the members of the team are looking forward with much pleasure to this visit.

Friday, November 17, Paris High has one of the hardest games on their schedule when they meet the Georgetown High School team. It was Georgetown High School that practically put Lexington High School out of the running in the football activities this year. Early in the season Lexington High played the Georgetown High and Lexington High has never got back into shape since that game. Georgetown always sends into the game a hard fighting, fast team, and the one that will visit Paris Friday is no exception.

Paris High has two more games at home this year, the Georgetown game, November 17, and Versailles High November 24. The High School is making special effort to have large attendance at the two remaining home games.

The splendid showing the team made against Somerset has created unusual enthusiasm for the remaining home games, and we look for the largest attendance Friday.

Every one likes a humorous program and especially are they interested in humorous cartoons. Ash Davis, the attraction for Wednesday evening, November 15, was a number that interested and entertained everybody. Our audiences are growing in size and appreciation with each number, and on Monday evening, November 20, we look for the best audience of the season. Monday evening, November 20, Robert Bowman, the celebrated entertainer, will be the sixth number in the course. Invite your friends to come to these interesting Lyceum entertainments. We shall be delighted to welcome you to any of them.

For the first time in a great many years Paris now has a High School orchestra. Miss Ellen Blanding, Supervisor of Music in the Paris City Schools, is rapidly developing what promises to be one of the strongest High School orchestras in Kentucky. The following High School students are at present members of the organization: Piano, Edna Earl Burns and Lucille Chipley; first violin, Ruth Wheeler and Julia Lavin; second violin, Margaret Cleveland; first cornet, Leslie Smith; second cornet, Geo. Browner; Trombone, Thomas Spicer; saxophone, Gale Brown; drums, Edward Merringer. The following are in training: Clarinet, Emily Fithian and Wm. Wilson; alto, Marshall Rankin; tuba, Harmon Taylor; violin, Sol Feld and Bryan Redmon. The orchestra will be heard by the public for the first time Tuesday evening, November 28. This is the evening of the Freshmen play, which is being directed by Misses Harbold, Noland, and Lillard. The High School orchestra will furnish the music. There is more school enthusiasm over this Freshman play and the appearance of the High School Orchestra than over any High School event so far this season.

SHORTHORN BREEDERS PLEAS-ED WITH SALE

Members of the Kentucky Short-horn Breeders' Association feel that the annual sale held November 3 was a success notwithstanding the fact that several of the lots sold far under their value. Most of the better cattle sold for good prices considering the times and the low prices on the poorer class of cattle brought down the general average. The breeders were pleased that so many of the bargains of the sale remained in Kentucky in the hands of small and new breeders. It was also gratifying to see so many of the top cattle going to improve the quality of the Kentucky herds. At the association banquet the night before the sale the members pledged their support to further the boys' and girls' baby beef clubs and to encourage the showing of Shorthorns at the local and county fairs.

Just History

In 78
The Colonial Dame
Spun her cloth
By Candle flame.

In 1880
In Crinoline bright,
She greeted her guests
By Coal Oil Light.

And later on,
How time does pass
Her home was lit
By flickering Gas.

But the girl of to-day
Who wants her home bright,
Just presses a button
And has Electric Light.
